International Law & Global Governance

Prof. Ching-Fu Lin TSMC 834 / Fridays 10:10-12:00

Syllabus * – 2020 Fall ILST

I. Course Description

This seminar addresses emerging challenges of international law and governance in a globalized world. By exploring the concepts of international law, theorizing legal order beyond the State, and reconstructing an informed approach to studying specific issue areas, this seminar leads students to reflect upon normative power wielded by both States and non-State actors in the era of fluid boundary and authority.

II. Assignments and Grading

Each student is required to finish all the assigned readings in advance and participate actively in class. Class participation includes but is not limited to discussion of readings, comments on each other's proposals/papers, and brainstorming/theorizing different international law & global governance approaches, which will account for 50% towards the final grade.

The other 50% of the grade will be given based on the short research paper (of around 8,000 words) each student submits at the end of the semester. Each student will be offered an opportunity to present her/his topic, research questions, methodologies, and outline of the paper in the first half of the semester. In the second half of the semester, each student will be required to present and criticize in detail another student's full paper. Please noted that such research papers shall be well researched, fully and correctly referenced, and written in a proper format.
